YEAR IN REVIEW 2011-2012

AGO

Art Gallery of Ontario
Musée des beaux-arts de l'Ontario

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT AND THE DIRECTOR

The Art Gallery of Ontario is an organization that constantly conveys energy. We gather visitors around ideas and great works of art. We express a point of view about the times in which we live; and we find innovative ways to engage visitors interactively around and through art. In 2011-2012, this energy was delivered through a strong offering of exhibitions, education programs, family activities and community events that brought art and people together. In total, the AGO welcomed 601,693 visitors throughout the year.

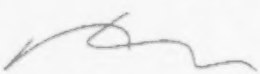
We were proud to bring key works from internationally celebrated museums to Toronto, with our two major exhibitions Abstract Expressionist New York: Masterpieces from The Museum of Modern Art and Chagall and the Russian Avant-Garde: Masterpieces from the Collection of the Centre Pompidou, Paris. We were equally proud to bring Canadian art to the attention of the world with exhibitions like, Haute Culture: General Idea—A Retrospective 1969–1994 organized by the AGO in collaboration with the Musée d'Art Moderne de la Ville de Paris. This was the first comprehensive retrospective devoted to the iconic Toronto-based artist collective General Idea and was shown in both Paris and Toronto.

Education was front and centre this year with the opening of our renovated and expanded education area, the Weston Family Learning Centre. This new hub for community creativity and learning—a gathering place for hands-on and online exploration of the creative process—sets a standard for museums around the world, with fully integrated technology that includes broadcast and video-conferencing capabilities and meeting spaces for educational and private functions. The centre includes modernized favourites, such as a redesigned interactive hands-on centre for young families and the AGO's popular Gallery School for art-making classes, and introduces new spaces like our artist-in-residence studio and education commons to welcome school groups.

As we continue to explore new ways to connect with audiences, social media plays an increasingly important role. Podcasts on the AGO website introduce the AGO's collections and recast live lectures. Webinars and Twitter interviews allow the public around the world to converse with artists and museum professionals. A series of blogs live on the AGO website for individuals to share their views on virtually every art-related topic. In Gallery spaces, we have introduced Twitter feedback stations and QR codes for smartphones to optimize every individual's personal experience with art. The AGO is also the first Canadian art museum to join the Google Art Project, enabling the world to enjoy and explore key masterworks from our collection.

In accordance with the AGO's long-standing commitment to fiscal prudence, the 2011-2012 year was a balanced operation—a challenging task in this time of economic uncertainty. We are very grateful to the Province of Ontario, the City of Toronto, the Canada Council and the Government of Canada for their ongoing support. We'd also like to thank our many donors and members for their sustained commitment and loyalty. Our members now number more than 80,000, the highest in our history and a true testament to the private sector support that has carried our institution to success since it was founded by a group of citizens more than 100 years ago.

We look back on our accomplishments in 2011-2012 with great satisfaction and pride, and we look forward to making new connections and exploring new frontiers with art in 2012-2013.



Tony Gagliano,

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE YEAR

APRIL 1, 2011 - MARCH 31, 2012

APRIL 2011

• The AGO presents Jon Sasaki: Pine in collaboration with the Images Festival. This installation is one of seven featuring Toronto artists throughout the year as part of the AGO's Toronto Now series.

• Marchesa Luisa Casati's Massive Party, Toronto's seventh annual ultimate art party, welcomes 1,600 guests. The event raises $135,000 for AGO programs.

• To celebrate National Volunteer Week, the AGO thanks the 900 dedicated individuals who donate their time, passion, expertise and energy to the Gallery with a program of special events and activities exclusively for AGO volunteers.

MAY 2011

•The AGO opens Abstract Expressionist New York: Masterpieces from The Museum of Modern Art. Organized by the Museum of Modern Art, the exhibition features more than 100 key works from such greats as Jackson Pollock, Mark Rothko, Willem de Kooning, Joan Mitchell and Robert Motherwell and marks the first time this unrivalled collection has left New York. We celebrate the arrival of the exhibition with the AbEx Opening Party, featuring some of Toronto's hottest DJs and an exclusive exhibition preview.

• Forty new Canadians receive their citizenships in a ceremony held at the AGO on May 18—International Museums Day. New citizens are able to visit the AGO and other major cultural attractions across Canada free for one year through the Cultural Access Pass program of the Institute for Canadian Citizenship.

• Canadian artist Brian Jungen is celebrated as the 2010 winner of the Gershon Iskowitz prize with the installation Brian Jungen: Tomorrow, Repeated, featuring seven of his works alongside works by legendary British sculptor Henry Moore in the AGO's Henry Moore Sculpture Centre.

JUNE 2011

• In conjunction with the Luminato Festival, the AGO hosts the all-star event Spontaneity: A New York State of Mind, with some of Toronto's most talented musicians and writers performing landmark works from the 1950s.

• Easter Seals Canada partners with the AGO and six other Toronto top tourism attractions to promote awareness of the Access 2 Entertainment (A2E) Program, which offers complimentary admission for support persons accompanying visitors with disabilities.

• The exhibition The Passion of Kathleen Munn opens, presenting the exceptional work and unique achievements of this Toronto artist, who was little known by the public, yet much admired by fellow artists, including the Group of Seven.

JULY 2011

• The AGO opens Haute Culture: General Idea—A Retrospective, 1969–1994, the first comprehensive retrospective of the iconic Canadian artist collective, General Idea. Conceived and organized by the Art Gallery of Ontario in collaboration with the Musée d'Art Moderne de la Ville de Paris, the exhibition features more than 300 works highlighting the group's achievement over 25 years.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE YEAR

APRIL 1, 2011 - MARCH 31, 2012

• The AGO introduces its first Twitter interview with AA Bronson, the sole surviving member of General Idea. Nice to Tweet You becomes an ongoing series that connects our Twitter followers with leading artists, curators, speakers and other experts in the arts.

• As a complement to Abstract Expressionist New York, the AGO presents Painting on Paper: The Drawings of Robert Motherwell, showcasing 55 works from the AGO collection, which houses one of the largest public holdings of drawings by Motherwell.

AUGUST 2011

• The AGO announces the selection of two Canadian artists—Elaine Stocki and Althea Thauberger—and two Indian artists—Gauri Gill and Nandini Valli—to compete for the Grange Prize 2011. After an eight-week public vote that occurs both on-site and online, Gauri Gill is declared the winner. The Grange Prize is the only Canadian art prize to have its winner chosen by the public.

• The AGO's extensive collection of industrial photography is profiled in the exhibition Songs of the Future: Canadian Industrial Photographs, 1858 to Today, which features works by William Notman, John Vanderpant, Ralph Greenhill, George Hunter and Edward Burtynsky.

SEPTEMBER 2011

• The AGO celebrates the unveiling of the new Weston Family Learning Centre, highlighting the Gallery's commitment to lifelong learning and creativity. Funding for this visionary project was provided by the Government of Canada's Infrastructure Stimulus Fund and a landmark donation from The W. Garfield Weston Foundation. Designed by Toronto firm Hariri Pontarini Architects, the facility dramatically increases programming capacity for students, teachers and community members and includes the new artist-in-residence studio space and the Community Gallery.

• The AGO honours the long-standing patronage of Joey and Toby Tanenbaum with the exhibition From Renaissance to Rodin: Celebrating the Tanenbaum Gift, featuring 33 masterworks donated by the couple over nearly four decades.

OCTOBER 2011

• Paul Butler, the AGO's first artist-in-residence, hosts The Other Painting Competition for Scotiabank Nuit Blanche. This all-night painting contest designed by artists Guy Maddin, Dean Baldwin and Kelly Mark invites emerging artists to demonstrate their life-painting skills. The artwork created during the night is exhibited for two months in the AGO's Community Gallery.

• The AGO hosts the preview gala for Art Toronto 2011, Canada's only modern and contemporary international art fair. Funds raised by the event are used to support the Gallery's education programs and to purchase works on display at the fair by Margaret Priest, Scott McFarland, Nick and Sheila Pye and Chris Curreri for the AGO's collection.

2

• Chagall and the Russian Avant-Garde: Masterpieces from the Collection of the Centre Pompidou, Paris, opens at the AGO, featuring 32 works by Marc Chagall and eight works by Wassily Kandinsky alongside the visionaries of Russian modernism, including Kasimir Malevich, Natalia Goncharova, Sonia Delaunay and Vladimir Tatlin. The exhibition is organized by the Centre Pompidou in Paris and comprises 118 works drawn entirely from its collection.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE YEAR

APRIL 1, 2011 - MARCH 31, 2012

• The AGO's much-loved Family Sundays program returns, with interactive, innovative family activities to engage and delight all ages on the last Sunday of each month between October and March.

NOVEMBER 2011

• Jack Chambers: Light, Spirit, Time, Place and Life opens at the AGO. The exhibition, a survey of the life work of one of Canada's most recognizable and renowned artists, is drawn primarily from the AGO's own collection—the definitive resource of works and research materials for Jack Chambers.

• Jeanne Beker, one of Canada's top fashion influencers, allows the public to view key elements of her private collection in the AGO's second annual Art Rental + Sales Gallery Collector's Series exhibition.

DECEMBER 2011

• Through a partnership between the AGO and the Toronto District School Board, 13 key works from the board's art collection are put on long-term display in the AGO's Weston Family Learning Centre. Artists featured in the display include Tom Thomson, Arthur Lismer, Emily Carr and Norval Morrisseau.

• Parks Canada unveils a plaque at the AGO commemorating Group of Seven artist Arthur Lismer and his contribution to art education. Arthur Lismer initiated the Gallery's art education program in the 1930s.

JANUARY 2012

• The work of Israeli filmmaker and artist Yael Bartana is featured in ...And Europe Will Be Stunned. The work was presented by Poland at the 2011 Venice Biennale—the first time a non-Polish artist has represented the country at this international exposition.

• Local art heroes Team Macho transform the AGO's Community Gallery space into a fully functioning art studio with the interactive installation Axis Mundi, where visitors are invited to occupy the space alongside the artists.

• The AGO introduces its New Perspectives program—drop-in Gallery tours for people living with mental illness.

FEBRUARY 2012

• Key holdings from the AGO's contemporary collection are featured in the installation Watch this Space: Contemporary Art from the AGO Collection. The installation includes both new acquisitions and more than 40 longtime collection favourites, including Gerhard Richter's Scheune/Barn No. 549/1 and Ellsworth Kelly's Blue White.

3

• The AGO celebrates Family Day in partnership with Bunch Family Inc., transforming the Gallery into the KGO (Kids Gallery of Ontario) with art-making activities, kid-friendly tours and an all-day party. Close to 2,000 visitors join in the festivities.

• The AGO's exhibition Inuit Modern: The Samuel and Esther Sarick Collection opens at the McCord Museum in Montreal.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE YEAR

MARCH 2012

• The achievements of preeminent Canadian artist Iain Baxter are celebrated in IAIN BAXTER&: Works 1958–2011, the most comprehensive survey of BAXTER&'s career to date. Eighteen custom-designed QR codes populate the exhibition, letting smartphone users watch, share and comment on videos, audio and behind-the-scenes content in the Wi-Fi enabled Gallery.

• The Gallery is abuzz during March Break with drop-in art-making and "city building" activities led by The Soft City Collective.

• The AGO becomes the first Canadian art gallery to join the Google Art Project, enabling online users to access key works in our collection.

ACQUISITION HIGHLIGHTS 2011-2012

In 2011-2012, the AGO added 386 strategic acquisitions, strengthening every area of our collection, including prints and drawings, photography and contemporary works. The AGO collection now totals more than 80,000 works.

Of particular note was a group of 10 etchings and woodcuts by the 20th-century German artist Käthe Kollwitz, which were donated by Dr. Brian McCrindle. These were added to the significant holdings of prints and drawings by this major woman artist already in the collection. The following were also added to the AGO's collection: a striking dye transfer print of Sailors, Key West by Marie Cosindas; The Comper Collection donated 16 works by Yvonne McKague Housser, Jeanne Rhéaume, Marian Dale Scott, Ethel Seath and Pegi Nicol MacLeod; and The Greg Curnoe Bicycle Project, from both the artist and a consortium comprised of Kaye Beeston, Jessica Bradley, Popsy Johnston, Shanitha Kachan, Sarah Milroy and Jeanne Parkin.

The following is a brief selection of acquisition highlights from the year:

NOTES

1. The above statement of operations provides a summary of the AGO's financial activity for 2011-2012. Financial statements for the 2011-2012 fiscal year (April 1, 2011 to March 31, 2012), audited by Ernst & Young, are available upon request from the Art Gallery of Ontario (416 979 6613).
2. Pension adjustment reflects the excess of cash contributions over pension expense each year.
3. In the 2011-2012 fiscal year, the AGO received gifts of works of art with an approximate value of $5,498,000. This is not reflected in the financial data above, but is identified in the AGO's 2011-2012 audited financial statements.
4. The AGO records capital asset purchases at cost and then amortizes its capital assets over the useful life of the asset. Donations and grants received for the purchase of capital assets are deferred and then amortized based on the useful life of the asset.
